

Confise-Journal.

LOUISV. KY.
TUESDAY NOVEMBER, NOVEMBER 6, 1876.

For Congress—Fifth District,
BOYD WINCHESTER,
OF JEFFERSON.
ELECTION OF TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Knox, Georgia, is gilding to have on roller skating.

Fifteen thousand people at the Richmond (Va.) Fair.

There were fifty-two deaths in Montgomery, Ala., last week.

The Avalanche is to be converted into a first-class hotel.

The attendance of physicians at the Virginia medical convention was very large.

The amount due the State of Virginia by soldiers who left in 1865 is $100,000.

Cheers for the new law against paper tape worms.

The Texas farmers are sowing more wheat this year than at any time since the close of the war.

The convention of Baptists to meet at Raleigh this week will be largely over as assembled in North Carolina.

Grange boasts that her State fair has been the greatest ever held this year, except the fair at St. Louis.

John Hill, who is charged with the murder of his wife at Memphis, has married there last Thursday.

H. J. Throckmorton: of Texas; a son of the ex-Governor, is the Democratic candidate for the Legislature in that State.

The election of W. H. G. Davis, of Virginia, with one exception, nominated the entire conservative ticket for county offices.

The total number of Sons of Temperance in Virginia is 1,360. During the last six months there have been initiated, and six new divisions established.

The Mayor of an interior Texas city, instead of issuing a proclamation against the dog, issued one against the dog with a double-barrel shotgun and shot him.

A short time ago the local editor of the Virginia Times started a small paper called "All the News That's Fit to Print," and suspended publication with its fourth number.

The executive committee of the Virginia State Fair called on Governor Walker Wednesday evening to veto a bill which had passed by the Legislature amending the fence law.

A joint stock company for the manufacture of agricultural implements on a large scale is about being established at Staunton, Virginia, with a capital of $100,000, and will be wholly owned by the Legislature.

Gratz Brown has made a gallant fight right gallantly. He will be elected, of course, and Missouri will be redeemed.

The Republican press has, as a general rule, supported the liberal movement.

But the Radical Administration, while the Republicans have done well, has not been able to remain in power, has all it could to curtail the march of that non-prescriptive sentiment whose ascendancy is necessary to the restoration of nationality and peace in this country.

We cannot vote for Mr. SPEED.

A private letter, received in this city yesterday from the city of Mexico, says the course of the Republican press in compelling the restoration of freedom in Missouri, and the course of the Democratic press in frowning down a proscriptive white man's organization in the South deserve the thanks of all the people who seek a sober, honest and peaceful government, founded in justice to all men and supported by an all-embracing national sentiment.

We cannot vote for Mr. SPEED.

A strange and very distressing disease has made its appearance among mule drivers in Texas, and has been spreading rapidly after being attacked and often with very little evidence of sickness. The disease is called "the muley." They seldom fall a victim, but those that do are apt to die.

The disease has the following: Seven freemen were sentenced by the colored jury and the court to the penitentiary last week for the killing of a negro. The colored drivers are very severe and rigid.

"They seldom fall a victim, but those that do are apt to die."

It is stated in each case that Judge R. C. Down, while holding court in Madison parish, La., on Monday, had a mule driven to a stable and bitten without any known provocation, by W. H. Neeler. The Judge and Neeler were both severely beaten and plunged into the Judge's body. He exclaimed, "I am dead," and falling, expired instantly.

There is a little railroad near Rayon, Saro, Louisiana, that runs to Woodville on a very unsafe road. A mule driver was killed on this road, and his master, without any known provocation, by W. H. Neeler. The Judge and Neeler were both severely beaten and plunged into the Judge's body. He exclaimed, "I am dead," and falling, expired instantly.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

It is a small town, and there is no telegraph.

CENTRAL JOURNAL

TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 6, 1878

TELEGRAMS.

John Campbell's woolen suit, at Menard, Pa., was buried last night. Loss, $60,000.

The Ottawa Government has consented to allow American sailing vessels returning to Japan.

The Boston Lead Works, which began on Saturday, were started for $10,000, nearly all of which was paid.

A meeting of the Directors of the National Bank of Louisville, on Saturday, was unanimously resolved to invest proceeds in the stock market to build several large buildings, and to increase its operations between Philadelphia and New York.

Keep the Peace.

Let every Democrat today consider himself a peace officer. Let every Democrat look to it that there is not the least disturbance of any sort. The little election act of the Radical Congress was designed to create panic and to obstruct elections, and we have reason to believe that the Radical majority in the House of Representatives would be only too glad to step upon a bloody field of battle on the occasion of dispossessing Mr. Winchell of his seat to which he will be elected by a large majority. We must not only compel the ignorant and vicious to keep the peace, but we must see to it that the virtuous streets of the law's protecting hand is extended to that element of out which Radical capital is sought to be made. No man can be credited with common sense who does not recognize this necessity, and no man can be called a good Democrat who does not abide by it.

LECTION RETURNS.

The clerks of the election to-day will confer a great favor by sending to us at the close of the polls at noon and at eight the full return of the votes cast, so that we may be able to ascertain the result.

A number of voters will be at the respective, candidate and the ward and station should be written plainly upon the blanks. We trust that the clerks will in this instance, as in the past, assist us in laying before the public at the earliest possible moment the returns of the most important election.

LAW STUDIES.

Big Davis and McDonald spent the effects of drunkenness at the bar last night.

They are placing a new entrance pavilion to the engine-house on Jefferson, near Third Street.

A society cotillion will be given by the Herk Social Club on Oct. 1st, on Thursday evening.

Carrie Moore and Jane Smith, were in the jail last night, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

J. W. Jackson, Wm. Gray and John K. Blair, were in the jail last night, charged with disorderly conduct and disorderly conduct in the Clay street station-house.

ADAM WARREN, a boy of nine, was at the charhouse station-house last night, being pursued through stones at signs.

He was taken to the Clay street station-house.

MATTHEW HARRIS seemed unable to stand the heat of the sun, and was being fanned by his wife, when Officer John Deninger came along and conducted him to the Clay street station-house.

A MATHEW of fifty barrels of wheat from Mendell, on the part of Andrew Thompson, for the chamberlain of whose company he had mounted one—two hundred rods up—was put into the Clay street station-house.

CHARLES KOPPELSS, the son of a widow who lived on Johnson's Hill, was playing with a number of boys in the yard of the schoolroom, when Officer John Deninger, who had been sent to the Clay street station-house, was passing the hours of late night at the Clay street station-house.

ON Sunday night some unknown persons entered the room of Mr. Spence, the son of Mr. Spence, and took away his coat and hat, and two Walnut and Chestnut, and absconded from the porch of his parsonage a pocket-book containing $100.

Two books, a life of Christ and a history of the New World, have been stolen from a poor woman, Mrs. Anna Johnson, who resides in a second-hand store, and will bring them to the office of the Chief of Police, the cost of the books will be paid, and the poor woman will be very thankful.

A LADY, while making purchases in a store on Fourth Street, was followed by a number of men who were members of the band, and was thought to be in a strong condition. Dr. J. W. Jackson, Wm. Gray and John K. Blair, were checked, and later in the day the lad had to be referred to as being removed to her home.

ST. MICHAEL'S SOCIETY, which is one of the strongest benevolent associations in the city, has issued a circular for the election of officers for next year. The officers proposed to be chosen are: President, John Shaffer; Vice President, John C. Morris; Secretary, J. D. McCann; Recording Secretary, Joseph A. Gray; Corresponding Secretary, Wm. H. Hayes.

A CONCORD girl named Martha West went to the house of J. T. Brown, on Walnut Street, on Sunday evening, and was followed by a number of men who were members of the band, and during the night she gave birth to a child, which was made away with the appearance of things not being known. She was found lying thrown into the vault of a privy. Although arrested for the body of the child has not yet been recovered.

They have had an ice furnace in Cincinnati, Ohio, for many years, and was restored for us to use in our new building. We have to go to New Albany with a load of wood, and after doing up business he went down to the river, and got into a boat, and was never seen again.

McCarthy. After much persuasion by a party of gentlemen, who had an infinite amount of fun at his expense, he consented to go to the bridge, he would not dare to do so, and was compelled to go ashore at Portland for he would be forced into getting on the car. He failed to get on, and was compelled to go ashore at the New Albany Lodge, of paper upon which he had been a reader all his life.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Open House.

Mr. White Ralston appeared last night with a well-arranged troupe, and gave a good version of Rip Van Winkle. It proved to be a very close, if not a literal imitation of the famous play, and was received with unanimous approbation.

Mr. Rankin, like his play, succeeded in the sale of his tickets.

The difference between the two plays is that while Rip Van Winkle was a comedy, Mr. Rankin's was a tragedy.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.

It is frequently agreed against the Democracy that it is divided against itself, and that it cannot be a unit in politics.